MEET THE ADVERSARIES

Targeted Intrusion

Targeted intrusion actors are most frequently associated with nation-states seeking to collect intelligence to facilitate public and private decision-making, often related to gaining political or economic advantage.

Hacktivism

Hacktivist actors have many motivations. They may be nationalists, social activists, terrorist supporters, or pranksters, and their malicious activities can occur at any time, for any reason, anywhere.

Electronic Crime

eCrime actors are financially motivated, and their malicious activities may target any number of victims, ranging from individuals to corporations.
